Re: Strategic Partnership

Dear Art,

We are proud to have publicly announced the team of licensed physicians and medical professionals at The Charlotte Foundation for Molecular Medicine, in strategic partnership with Global Infection Control Consultants ("GICC"), launched www.n-pe.org ("N-PE") offering the GICC family of products.

As you know, the N-PE Team have secured and managed more than 7.5 Billion in contracts in the past including holding a 2.4 Billion dollar contract with the USAF (United States Air Force) Commodity Council to supply all the USAF doctors, nurses, dentists and other medical professionals globally.

Since inception, N-PE has successfully registered as a service connected disabled veteran owned business, secured position on the FEMA/DOD temporary hospital deployment team, and are currently adding thousands of buildings to the GICC family of product users in the federal, state, and local governments and in negotiation with large commercial clients including airlines, hospitals, restaurant chains, hotels, assisted living centers, and large government contractors.

With more than 450 Million in potential contracts on the near horizon, we look forward to a long-standing successful business venture with GICC and our support and installation strategic partnerships with EMCOR, AECOM, Terracon, Blue Team, Bechtel, and many others stand ready to support all hospital and other clients (large or small) in deployment of the GICC family of products and services.

Please feel free to offer our global installation, testing, and distribution strategic resources that include more than 85,000 experts with licensure as MDs, PhDs, CIH, Professional Engineers, Technicians and other related professionally credentialed experts in Hospital, Airline, Hotel, Assisted Living, Industrial, and Commercial applications of the GICC family of products and services.

Kind Regards,

Charles Cole, MS. ENVM.
